2010 SHIRAZ

REVIEWS AND AWARDS

Parade Picks - Mike Bennie - June 2014 - 94 Points
“Comes with hallmark concentration and impact of ripe fruit, but also feels smooth and polished to taste. Not for the shy and retiring, but impeccable balance for concentration and density of fruit and oak here.”

Decanter Panel Tasting - May 2014 - 91 Points
“Dense, concentrated nose; chocolate, pure, strong, exotic new oak. Intense flavour and concentration without being overwhelmingly thick or concentrated, but nonetheless powerful in structure and powerfully flavoured - classic Shiraz.”

Wine Spectator - Harvey Steiman - 26.02.14 - 91 Points
“Polished, lithe and focused, offering dark berry, mint and spice flavours on a vibrant structure, lingering with power and refinement. Drink now through 2018.”

Ballarat Courier - 17.08.13
“Deep, brooding intense purple in colour, the aromas of this wine are typical of the variety and the region. Bitter chocolate and thyme combine with French oak and liquorice to produce a complex and intriguing wine.”

“It is deep purple with crimson edges and brings enticing scents of cassis and lavender to the nose. Lovely plush plum flavour rolls on to the front of the palate and elements of ripe cherry, dark chocolate, mocha coffee and spice meld with savoury oak on the middle palate. Supple, minty tannins feature at the finish.”

“Deep garnet, red; the savoury bouquet reveals black and red fruits, licorice, and a strong mocha oak presence; the medium-bodied palate is supple and shows plenty of complexity and fine-grained tannin texture; whilst the oak is a dominant force the concentration of fruit will go the distance.”

Australia Gourmet Traveller Wine - May 2013
“Deep red with inky hues, aromas of black chocolate and liquorice are followed by pepper spice and sandalwood. Classic McLaren Vale flavours of heady spice and chocolate on the palate are framed by a firm structure. Finishes with elegance and length.”
